City of Ketchikan

Dear Chief Hoage,

I just wanted to drop a note of thanks and show of respect for all you and your team are doing in the midst of COVID-19.

I don't envy your job, with tempers, opinions and misunderstandings flaring in all directions. But the constant release of information to the public as events transpire is a great sense of reassurance for me. It demonstrates how seriously the City and Borough staff are taking this epidemic. And it gives me a daily source of information that helps me decide how I want to respond, react or plan for my own actions.

I was also impressed with your recent message asking people to proceed with kindness. Your voice added a calming element to a volatile situation, and gave a human voice to an official source. I certainly listened and appreciated your tone and words when I received the alert on my phone.

I'm sure you're putting in long hours and work that none of us will ever know. I appreciate your dedication and the sacrifices you and your family are making on behalf of our community. I think we're so fortunate to have your leadership during a time like this. I've really been impressed.

I'm also sure you're taking a lot of flak, but I hope you're also finding support – and kindness – from people in our town.

Thank you. Take good care.

A grateful resident
