Dear Mayor Sivertsen,

I had to travel to Ketchikan from POW unexpectedly on March 26. On March 27 we had a Craig Public Library Association board meeting by Zoom which I was not sure if I would be able to attend until I spoke with the Ketchikan Library staff.

They let me use a private room and the wifi to make the meeting. They were friendly and professional. I thanked them profusely but sometimes it is necessary to notify others of the wonderful job the public employees are doing. These wonderful folks make an already excellent city asset even better. Most of the time all we hear is the negative comments. Please let the council and city manager know also.

Sincerely,

Jeff Lundberg
